Strong Shows No Fear of Possible Arrest.

Forgetting the Past.

Making Bets in London Hotels on the Prospect of a Reconciliation.

ONDON, July 25.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) It is denied at Scotland Yard that there is any warrant here for the arrest of Putnam Bradlee Strong. Scotland Yard authorities explain that if there was a warrant they would have no trouble in arresting Strong, for he has shown himself openiy at the Cariton Hotel and other piaces. The idea prevails here that Yoke, having received compensation from the Strong family for financial losses, is following Strong for the purpose of horsewhipping him.

Strong's appearance in prominent places in London causes the belief that he is in no fear of a warrant. Being annoyed by reporters, he today changed his hotel, but has not left London.

It is supposed the Russian government at washington.

It is supposed the Russian government supplied this to the United States as a matter of information and as a courtesy. Certain it is that, in the present view, the United States executive cannot participate in such a conference as is described, by reason of limitations that cannot be escaped, even if there were no other objections. From a perusal of the note it appears that its references to trusts have attracted the principal share of attention, although the whole note appears to be framed as an argument in support of

The reference to an international trust conference is actually, therefore, presented in the shape of an alternative proposal, or rather suggestion, only it case the soundness of the Russian contention in support of its present system is successfully challenged. The State Department cannot do more at this stage than it has done namely, a return of polite acknowledgement through Mr. Riddle, any watch developments in Europe. It is not supposed that there will be any action toward calling another congress but rather that the discussion of the Russian system of regulation of supproduction will proceed, certainly to the date set for the application of the agreement reached at Brusse for the stoppage of sugar bountif and the exclusion from importation bounty-aided sugars. That action, is expected, may precipitate a decision Russian proposals.

Magnaine advertising has paid in the past—it will pay in the future. It has made immense fortunes for the advertisers, who understood the construction and building of business-bringing advertisements. But we wish to say and argue that if the daily newspaper is given half a show in the way of carefully-worded and delicately-illustrated ads, it will return to the advertisers satisfactory returns on every penny expended. This is not an impression on the part of the writer—it is a broad-shouldered and robust reality.

PARSON THERE?

The funniest fellow in the crowd was an old man with white whiskers; maybe he wasn't a clergyman, but appearances were against him. He was wedged in between a sport, who had bet Fits wouldn't last six rounds, and a man who knew all about prize fighting from inspiration, never having seen a prize fighter in his life.

The old clergyman was very much distressed at the predicament of the sport, and very much worried about Jeffries.

"Dear, dear," he said, when the wires sung about Jeffries bleeding. "Dear, dear," he said, "I fear he will be blinded by his blood and not be able to see to—ahem—to fight."

The sport kept growling, "There goes $2 of my chances. Now, I got Just 29 cents' chance $f seeing my money."
"Dear, dear," said the clergyman. So many bets had been made as to whether Fitz would last five rounds that the crowd yelled wildly for Fitz the first few rounds; then the yelling shifted for Jeffries.

WORDS THAT TOLD.

WORDS THAT TOLD.

Fitz was apparently bathing his ands in Jeffries's blood, when there hands in Jeffries's blood, when there flashed across the screen simply the announcement, "Jeffries wins."

The crowd was stunned for a minute: then let out a wild yell.

That message flashed out on the sheet just ten seconds after the referee in San Farnelsco had counted the ten that laid poor old Fitz back on the shelf for all time.

It was all Fitz talk, and his backers in the street were yelling over prospective triumph, when an operator at a Times telegraph key gave a grunt and the "flash" came out in a tumble of letters.

"Lord," said the telegrapher, "that operator up there is so excited he is stuttering."

Perhaps he had bet wrong.

RUSHING THE EXTRA.

RUSHING THE EXTRA. Two minutes after that skilled men in the buzz and hum of the big linotype room were rattling off the last words of the "filmsy" in long thin sheets. Others, in their bare arms, were sliding the type into the forms money's worth.

The largest bet recorded was $500 to $400 that Fitz would stay ten rounds, a syndjeate of local sports taking the short end of it against a mining man from Arisona named Raines. He was drunk when he made the bet, but that made no difference to those who won his money. They pooled issues and eight or ten of them took a piece of the wager and divided the money which he lost. There were numerous bets of from $50 to $100 at various odds, but around the places where bets were offered the greater portion of the crowds was there to see the wagers laid and not to place any money themselves.

[New York Sun:] As a device for taking fish alive and in quantity nothing has ever been found equal to the scine, and it is used on many of the rivers of America with great effect. It is so destructive to fish life, does to much to break up their haunts and breeding grounds even when it does not take them outright, that its use has been forbidden by law in most of the States.

Seiners, however, like the dynamiters, continue to bid the game wardens go hang, and to ply their nefarious trade in spite of laws and shotguns loaded with small shot. On the Upper Mississteadily toward the bank. As they go the lower edge of the seine is caught and pulled forward forming a sort of sack, in which the fish are imprisoned. When two feet of water is reacfied the net is rushed to shore and the fish have no chance to excape.

The sizes of the hauls vary considerably. It may be that not more than a dozen catfish and buffalo are caught, or it may be that the fish taken at one haul may number hundreds. If the flat be well chosen three or four hundredweight of flat of all varieties common to the Mississippl are apt to be inclosed. That most plentifully caught is the buffalo, a large and savory fish enough, though not commanding a high price.

There will be also yellow and blue, or channel catfish, dogfish, asspergoos, or drums, pickerel, muskellunge, bass, perch and cropples; also turtles which, if they have soft shells, are saved for soup, and if they have hard shells are left to find their way back to the water; also occasionally cels.

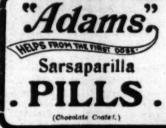

There is a certain amount of sport and excitement about seining even to the amateur angler who does not depend upon the sale of fish meat for his bread and butter. One never knows until the writhing, twisting, flapping mass is piled on the sandbank just what is in the seine.

If the catch is a good one the water boils with the siruggling fish long before the meshes come to shore. Some great bass or muskellunge may be observed to leap high and clear of the water in the effort to break through. The men are forced to work with torches, though the light may attract the wardens, and they work with great rapidity, being anxious to get their fish into the boats and to get away before interference.

Seining has been made illegal mainly because it injures the bass and muskellunge fishing, and great quantities of bass are taken in this way. In a big catch it is not unusual to find two or three dozens of bass, running in weight from a pound to four pounds, and the smaller muskellunge are often taken, though not in such numbers.

A favorite place for seining is in a narrow, deep channel between a willowed island and the mainland, and in such a place it sometimes occurs that so many fish are imprisoned the four men can hardly force the seine to shore.

Jeffries, when seen in his corner, said: "I was never gutting the worst of it, although the blood in my nose and mouth bothered me a good deal. It was all due to those bandages that Fits wore. Otherwise I have no complaint. Fits foight square and clean, and seemed able to stop my rushes pretty well, but the fight was in my hands all the time." ************************

Referee Graney said: "This was the best fight I ever saw. Both men fought clean, and there was no semblance of a foul. Fitx put up a splendid fight, better, even, than I thought he coull, and for a man of his age he is a marvel. I don't think his blows hurt Jeffries much, except that they cut his face severely in the first two rounds. That distressed the champion a good deal, but I don't think it took any steam out of him. That is shown by the blow which did the business and which Jeff had up his sleeve all the time."

My right hand, in particular, was almost useless. I am confident now, even more so than ever, that in my first battile with Jeffries I was doped. His our previous battle was unwarranted."

Asked why he did all the leading.
Fitzsimmons indignantly denied the allegation, and said that Jeffries did a

At this juncture Dr. L. C. Cox, who had been summoned to attend the fighter, commenced an examination of the defeated pugillst. After a careful examination, the doctor announced that Fitzsimmons's ribs were not broken, but that his left side was badly bruised, the muscles being so constricted as to cause the Carnishman

VETERAN WAS TRYING TO REGAIN

HIS LOST LAURELS.

Fight Excited More Interest Than Any Similar Event Since Corbett Fought Sullivan-Little Coin on the Short End, Because of the Experience With Jackson.

IBT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES ! SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The battle for the heavyweight championship of the world tonight between James J. Jeffries of Los Angeles, the champion, and Robert Fitzsimmons of New York, the ex-champion, excited more interest in San Francisco and throughout the country than any championship event since Corbet met Sullivan at New Orsince Corbet met Sullivan at New Or-leans, and it drew the biggest audi-ence ever seen at a fight in this city. The giamour of romance and sentiment was all about the struggle, for it was the bold effort of a man far along in years to regain from a younger, stronger and bigger antagonist the laurels that he lost three years ago.

Despite the fact that Jeffries is a Californian and is an unbeaten man, Fits has been more popular here since the fight articles were signed. There is something about his game struggle to reconques the title of champion that has appealed to Californians and that has appealed to Californians, and that has appealed to Californians, and they-showed their liking and sympathy for him by the great ovation that they gave him last Sunday, when he came back from Skaggs Springs. Much of the money put up on Fitz has also been placed out of sentiment, the same feeling that prompted many to wager 2 to 2 to 1 on Jack Dempsey when he met Fitz in New Orleans. But among the hard-headed sports, who do not believe in sentiment, and who judge believe in sentiment, and who judge a man strictly on form and previous performance, very little money was placed on Fitz except on the gamble that he would last ten rounds. Many sports were rendered wary by their experience with Peter Jackson, several years ago. Jackson, in his day, was the quickest big man in the ring, with the single exception of Corbett. When he came back here after his London successes, he was matched against Jeffries, who was then a hardhitting novice, with Sharkey as his only victim in the first class. Jack-son had dissipated badly in London, and showed the results, but in two weeks his appearance changed, and those who saw him train declared that he had regained all his old form. Jeff he had regained all his old form. Jeff was the favorite, but a large amount of money was put on Jackson to stay ten rounds and to win. He made a good rhowing in the first two rounds, but went all to pieces in the third, and was knocked out before the round was half finished. It is this tesson that made the San Francisco sports very shy of risking their coin on Fitz, merely because he looked well and made a fine showing in his training quarters.

Two men have been killed by electric

Two men have been killed by electric wires in Los Angeles during the past week. In one of these cases it is stated that the man did not even come in contact with the wire of the San Gabriel Electric Company, but that a flash leaped over the wire to where he was working on a tin roof, at a distance of fitteen feet. This is said to be the second case in which a person has been killed in Los Angeles by a power wire, without coming in contact with it. The company is reported to claim that it is impossible to insulate a wire carrying 15,000 volts. In that case some other means should be taken to make the wires harmless. We have dangers enough in the crowded streets of the city without having such a deadly danger running through the very heart of Los Angeles.

Why, they ought to vote bonds up there to provide a refrigerator line. Sheriff Cudihee is back from his sleuthing trip on Tracy's trail, and the outlaw is as free as the birds in the bushes. Why not hire Sherlock Holmes to work out a theory as to where that

SAN DIEGO COUNTY. IMPORTANT LAND DECISION.

(REPECAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TRUEL)

SAN DIEG., July 25.—Julge Conking of the Superior Court today decided the case of the People vs. Smith Norris in favor of the State. The decision is important because it concerns the title to a large amount of land in the Imperial country. A number of persons who took up school land in 1835 failed to make more than the first payment; the property reverting to the State by process of foreclosure, an. it has been acquired by other than the original takers. Since then the land has increased in value and the original owners are now try by to have the judgment in favor of the State set aside on the ground that the complaints did not state a sufficient cause of action. The motion to set saide and vacate the judgment was denied, and twenty days given defendant to file exceptions.

TENT CITY

CORONADO CAMP NOTES.

TENT CITY, July 25.—The rain was the most unwelcome thing in camp. It commenced falling early last evening and continued through the night, the total at noon having been 1.27. It was still raining when the people of the white city awoke from their slumbers. While it was unexpected and caught many of the people unprepared, it was surprising to see how they set at work making the best of the uncomfortable visitation. The management of the city was untiring in every intolerance and indecency perfectly in place. Gettep there:

It is a funny sight to see those Democratic tongue-twisters and spell-binders over there in New England trying to make those keen Yanks believe that Republican policies are not the thing for the country. La me, those people learned how to suck eggs years before Bryan was out of "panties."

NEW YORK, July 25.—A Judgment in favor of John T. Reld, for $282,689 against Riley A. Boges and his wife, Emma D. Boges, both of California, was filed in the County Clerk's office in Brooklyn today. Reld, who claimed that he sold 38,000 shares of Empire Consolidated Quicksilver Mining Company for which Bores received a paycany for which Boges received a pay-ment of £5,000,000, brought suit for his commission with interest, and obtained judgment by default.

There is probably no city of the size in the United States where the post-master receives so many letters of industrict is all parts of the country. The following letter received for a few days ago may appeal to some housekeeper who a few days ago may appeal to some housekeeper who needs the services of such a person:

Box 32, STOCKBRIDGE (Mass)

Mr. Postmaster, Dear Sir: I'm of New England birth (since 1634) and a widow. Want to go where there is not four kinds of weather in one day. I can pay my fare, but cannot pay my board. Will do sewing and mending, or any light work for a good home. I'm fifty (50) years old—too old, they will say, to be any good. The saying is, "the older the wine the better." One don't know everything until then. I know of no way to make my wants known than through the postmaster, if he will be so kind as to hand this to any one (male or female) wanting their mending, etc., etc., done. If I'm written to I'll answer all questions. I do so hope to hear favorably. I'm only in Stockbridge until September first. I'm with my stepdaughter. My permanent address is 42 College street, New Haven, Ct. Thankness you for your kindness, etc., etc., respectfully yours, (MRS.) E. Q. CONDELLI.

TWENTY-TWO BURGLARIES. Long List Charged to Myers, the

of Plunder. of Flunder, Investigation by the police into the record of Gus Myera, the seventeenyear-old burgiar, who was captured red-handed several nights ago, shows that he has been operating in the southwestern part of the city for more than a year. No less than twenty-two charges of burgiary could be brought against him, and there is reason to believe that he was implicated in a greater number of crimes. As-brought against him, and there is reason to believe that he was implicated in a greater number of crimes. Another felony, the guilt of which he has confessed, is the theft of a hicycle, but inasmuch as the officers will only be able to send him to the State Reform School at Whittler, this charge will not be pressed.

When Myers's room was searched there was a sufficient quantity of stolen property in it to more than foad a wagon. The goods included all kinds of articles, for he took such valuables as he could carry, regardless of their value or of his prospective ability to dispose of them. He had a weakness for cigars, fifty or more boxes of which were found where he had secreted them.

Much of the stuff found in his possessian has been identified, and there is evidence which leads to the belief that he was implicated in the following burglaries, all of which have been committeed within the past year: University sub-postoffice, Banks & Green, Washington and Main streets, burglarized twice; stores at Twenty-third and Grand avenue, entered five times; Santa Fé railroad station on Central avenue and Slauson; Brown's drug store, Washington and Bush streets; Washington and Bush streets; Harper's drug store, Washington and Bush streets; Horper's drug store, Washington and Bush streets; Dressler's hardware store adjoining.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Aaron was the brother of Moses, but how little like him. When the people is think, the over tite, and a people of the same of yielding in such cowardly fashion and then plitfully shuffling and seeking to evade his personal responsibility, he should have stood forth heroically and rebuked the madness of the morder in to it, etced in late, loyit letted in the lives of many who afterward pershed for their sin, and also might have saved his own name from everlasting reproack. "Thou shalt in no wise follow the multitude to do evil." "My son, if sinners entice these, consent thou ont." Blessed the man who dares to stand alone for God and truth, like living might yet be spared, and Luther at the Diet of Worms.—[Henson. The first prayer of Moses is brief and intense. There is passionate appeal, care for the divine honor, remembrance of the saintly dead for whose sake the living might yet be spared, and absolute forgetfulness of self. Already the family of Aaron had been preferred to his, but the prospect of monopolizing the divine predestination has no claim for this faithful and patriotic heart.—

people is heart-rending. Is it any won-der that when a medical missionary ap-pears, with his modern skill and health-giving powers, as soon as his purpose is understood, he is welcomed and honored and beloved? Nor is it strange that when he offers healing for-men's spirits his words receive cre-dence.

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE

The first institution for the insane in all China—an empire older than the Christian era—was founded by an American Presbyterian missionary.

The body is the only gate to the soul.

The gospel is for all men and for all of man. It saves both the body and the soul.

A romantic story is that of the beginning of missionary work in Corea, "the hermit nation." Dr. H. N. Allen, a medical missionary in Shanghal, was quietif dispatched to Seoul, the capital, in 1884, shortly after the first United States Minister had taken up his official residence there. Shortly afterward there was an insurrection in the city, and six Corean officials were murdered, while a seventh, a near rehality of the king, was mangled terribity and likely to die. The fight of all Europeans and Americans, except two, followed this insurrection. These two were the plucky American doctor and his wife. "We shall live in the legation with the old flag flying, and trust the kind Father to care for us," wrote by Dr. Allen in the midst of flying builets and burning buildings. Soon he was summoned to attend the wounded prince. He was in time to prevent the same buildings. Soon he was summoned to attend the wounded prince. He was in time to prevent the and prince. He was in time to prevent the assembled thirteen Corean physicians, so called, from pouring black was into the gaping wounds. They, and attendant officials, looked on in wonderment while the young American tied the arteries and sewed up the wounds. The prince recovered, and so did others whom Dr. Allen was called upon to attend. Thus, through the instrumentality of a plucky medical missionary, began the present great work of foreign missionaries in Corea.

again, two more runs were scored. Josh Reilly beat out a slow bounce toward third and went to third on Meredith's long single. McHale singled to left and Jackson could not return it in time to keep Josh and Meredith from crossing the plate.

Their last run came in the eighth on singles by Josh Reilly, Meredith and Nordyke.

The Looloos could do nothing until the ninth, when Anderson doubled to the score board and reached the plate on Hanlon's fierce, sizzling single past third base.

NOTES OF THE GAME

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Hanion made a pretty double play unassisted in the fifth inning, and also retired the side himself. Polly Parrott first knocked a grounder to Hanion. Leahy then drew a pass and whi'e playing ten feet off the bass, Morrow drove a liner into Hanion's hands and he put his foot over on the bag and doubled up Leahy.

A pound more of steam in the fourth inning would have given Reilly another home run, for he drove a fly high up against the left fence.

Parrott made four nice catches and a beautiful assist from the field in the fourth, Householder dying at third in trying to steal after Polly's catch of Raymer's long fly. Polly made a, perfect throw.

M ORE IMPORTANT THAN PRIZE FIGHT FREE SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST YET

Some Pretty Duels for Place are Occurring Gertrude Smith, Elsie Ander-son, Mary O'Shea, Rae Price and Louisa Molina All Go Up Higher.

TO BE DECIDED.

The prize fight divided interest with the free-scholarship contest last night, but the latter was not entirely eclipsed by the fistic event. The puglistic championship now is settled, but a question of far vaster importance is: Who is going to win in the scholarship contest?

There were no knockouts in the scholarship contest yesterday, but sev-eral very pretty duels for place oc-the other contestants will come up and overtake them.

Gertrude Smith of Downey will have to be watched or she will leap into first place before any one is aware of her intentions. She has forced Egbert Edwards out of third place again, and is looking for more words to conquer.

Elsie Anderson of Pasadena has also planned her flight for higher honors and has displaced Gladys Edmonds as No. 6 on the score card. She is hot on the trail of Frank Cummings for fifth place, and that versatile young gentleman will have to move lively now to keep ahead of the girl from Pasadena.

to keep ahead of the girl from Pasadena.

Mary O'Shea's star is also in the ascendant, and she has overtaken Juan C. Sanches, and is now No. 11.

Rae Price, the pride of the Peatlands, has swapped places with Harry Schalwitz, otherwise known as Uncle Sam, Jr., and now is the fortunate No. 13-fortunate, because it is one notch higher up the scale than she has been before.

Leusia Molina, the little Spanish beauty from Colegrove, has moved up two pegs, and is now No. 20, having forced Hattle Lander and Gertrude Ellis back one notch each.

Hubert O'Nell has again swapped places with Ralph Moor, and is No. 27.

Hubert O'Neil has again swapped places with Ralph Moor, and is No. 27.

Laverna Lossing, Clyde Miller and Georgia McKee appear to be going after the Arizona prizes in earnest. Miss Lessing wants to attend the Normal School at Tempe; Miss McKee is after the scholarship of the Lamson Business College at Phoenix, and Mr. Miller has not yet designated his choice. Perhaps he would like to come to Los Angeles and attend the Yale school, inasmuch as he can have 1100 rebate on wiexpenses, if he is successful in the contest. The scores in the Arizona list are still so small that any boy or girl in the Territory can start in yet and easily overtake any of those now trying for the prizes.

In order to give the Arizona con-

In order to give the Arizona contestants a better show, the time limit on the coupons in waived. Coupons sent in from the Territory will be counted, regardless of the date upon them, because it takes so long for them to reach the Territory and return.

The Arisona contestants are handi-capped somewhat because such a large part of the population of the Territory is sojourning in Southern California during the summer months, The contestants should write to their friends here to help them. In fact, some of the Arizonans in Southern California are aiready assisting the Arizona candidates for scholarships.

PARIS, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an article on the foreign policy of the United States, printed in the Figaro today. M. Pierre de Coubertin expresses the opinion that the Monroe doctrine has been placed in the background, and that America is now looking forward to becoming the keynote to a gigantic Anglo-Saxon federation. De Coubertin says he believes if South Africa should be attacked, or Australia threatened, or misfortune should overtake Grat Britain, it would be seen that blood is thicker than water. Ind the Star Spangled Banner would become the flag of the Anglo-Saxon race.

FOOLED THE ROBBER.

W. H. Cook of This City Outwits Highwayman Who Robbed Bartlett

Mighwayman Who Robbed Bartlett Springs Stage Passengera.

At the point of a Winchester, William H. Cook of this city surrendered 4 to a highwayman last Sunday, and escaped with his life. Cook had a large sum of money on his person, but it was in currency, concealed in an inmar pocket, and by a clever ruse the real-estate dealer saved it for his expenses at Bartlett Springs, whither he was bound.

Mr. Cook left Los Angeles last Satpenses at Bartlett Springs, whither he was bound.

Mr. Cook left Los Angeles last Saturday morning to spend a few weeks with his son at the springs, which are about 150 miles north of San Francisco and forty miles by stage from the nearest railroad station, Leeville. The stage carried nine passengers, including Mr. Cook, when it left Leeville Sunday afternoon, and at 6:30 o'clock had reached a point but a few miles from its destination when an armed man stepped into the road and commanded the driver to halt, at the same time inviting the passengers to step to the ground.

Lining 'he driver and passengers at the roadside, and covering them with his rifle, the robber ordered one of the number to search the remainder of the party and to hand over all the money they carried. No jewels nor watches were wanted.

When the unwilling searcher reached Mr. Cook, the Los Angeles man handed out it in change and presenting a

When the unwilling searcher reached Mr. Cook, the Los Angeles man handed out $4 in change, and, presenting a check book, explained that he carried no other money with him, as he paid all his bills with checks. Had the highwayman insisted on a more complete search several hundred dollars in bills would have been found tucked away in the recesses of Cook's clothing. The proceeds of the haul were about $140, which the robber carried with him into the seclusion of the mountains.

DEAL HEIR OF "HILL" HERE TO SETTLE UP.

SALEM D. CHARLES OF BOSTON BRINGS PROOFS.

Namesake and Nephew of Mysterios Rich Old Man Says He Wasn't Surprised When Attorney Moss Told Him

Salem D. Charles of Boston, heir of the estate of Salem Charles, alias Charles Hill, the old man, who died at the Good Samaritan Hospital, May 17, leaving $142,000 in cash, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon, and is now staying at the Hollenbeck Ho-tel. He came here to take the neces-sary steps for the settlement of the lic Adminigrator, received a telegram from him, saying he was on the overland train, and at 2:10 o'clock in the afternoon met him at the depot. He was taken to a hotel, and later was closeted with Superior Judge Shaw, before whom will be determined the identity of the heirs and final sottlement of the estate made. Since the return from the East of Mr. Moss there has been no doubt as to the identity of "Charles Hill" and of the correctness of what Mr. Moss found in Massachusetts, Judge Shaw has no doubt. It is likely that the estate will be settled without contest, and that Mr. Charles will be able to go back in a few days. He will take with him the remains of "Charles Hill," provided he can make the necessary arrangements with the authorities. The body will be taken to Brimfield, Massa, and will be buried beside those of the other members of the family, which is one of the oldest in Massachusetts.

There is perhaps no better known man in Boston than Salem D. Charles, and that he is not an adventurer nor a person looking for an estate which is not his own, is perhaps best evidenced by a statement as to who he is. He was born in Brimfield in 1850, educated in Hitchcock Academy and Amherst College, from which he graduated in 1874. He was principal of Shelburn Falls Academy for several years. He then attended the Boston University Law School, and in 1873 was admitted to the bar. He practiced his profession for years, and in 1873 was admitted to the bar. He practiced his profession for years, and in 1873 was admitted to the bar. He practiced his profession for years, and in 1873 was admitted to the bar. He practiced his profession for sears, and in 1874 was at the legislative sessions of 1822 and 1833 he was the Democratic leader in the Legislature, and at that time that meant something, for the Democratis nad elected Gov. Russell, and were practically in control of the State administration. It was during this session that the now famous bill for the construction of the Boston rapid transit subway was adopted, and i has been chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners. An indication of the standing of Mr. Charles in Boston is the fact that he received, after eleven years of public life, the largest plurality ever given a candidate there.

Mr. Charles has brought ample proof of his relationship with the mysterious old man, whose rich estate attracted world-wide attention. Like the other heirs, he is a rich man, and in the practice of his profession, he has made in one year many times what his share of the legacy will be.

"But for my uncle's kindness, I would have been only a farmer boy and would have received no education." said Mr. Charles last evening. "I therefore feel keenly the fact that he came here among strangers, and died alone, without the comforts which any member of the family would have gladly given him. The purpose of my trip is to settle the estate, and I have come prepared to prove beyond all doubt that the man whom you knew here as Charles Hill, was Salem Charles, the man after whom I was named, and who was my uncle.

"I was not at all surprised, when Mr. Moss told me of the death of my relative. Many times I have said to my brothers and sisters that some day we would receive a visit from some attorney, who would tell us of the death of our uncle, perhaps in a far-off land. It is not necessary for me to dwell upon the fact that he came here and assumed another name. It is a trait of the family to be secretive, but that it should be carried it, can only be explained by the eccentricities of his old age. The facts will probably come out in court, but until they do, it would be unwise for me to make public any of the traits of the family to be secretive, but that it should be carried to the extest which my uncle carried it, can only be explained by the eccentricities of his old age. The facts will probably come out in court, but until they do, it would be unwise for me to make public any of the traits of the family, but I was his favorite. FIGHT TILL LAST DITCH.

Trouble is Brewing at Warner's Ranch.

Indians Must Be Moved by Violence.

When the Pinch Comes There is Likely to Be Blood: shed.

Something but little removed from an Indian war on a small scale is looming up at Warner's ranch.

It is certain that force, rude violence, will have to be used in evicting the red inhabitants of the now famous little pueblo of Agua Caliente, and bloodshed is feared.

The Indians have openly vowed that they never will have their homes till Mrs. Amelia S. Quinton of Philadelphia, an Indian worker of national reputation, who was reported to have urged the Indians not to accept the offices of the commission, when that body was first appointed, has been here for a week, and visited Mr. Lummis yesterday morning, leaving afterward for San Bernardino.

John Brown, Esq., will have to move quickly, as the report of the commission, recommending the tract of land which they believe suitable for the occupancy of the Indians has already been dispatched to Washington, and the removal will undoubtedly be begun without delay.

That the peor natives will probably have to be gathered up bodily and carted away is acknowledged by those most reluctant to admit of trouble. There are too many influences brewing fumes of insurrection under the mostrila of the distracted tribesmen to make the actual uprooting a peaceful one. Disappointed land owners, turned down by the commissioners, are one source of discord. The Indians have hung on so far with a doggedness that bodes ill.

John Brown, Esq., evidently has a had job on his hands, or else he has a strong card to play at the last moment, which is perilously near. In an Associated Press dispatch received from San Bernardino he is quoted as authority for the statement that "the commissioners encouraged the Indians to believe that the government will take steps to condemn a portion of Warner's reanch to be used by the Indians as a reservation," and that "at the conference Thursday the chiefs were given to understand that the commissioners had not been able to find a location suitable for reservation pur poses, and would, in making their report to the government, recommend that a portion of the ranch, be condemned."

He said: "If Mr. Brown makes the statements attributed to him, his talents lie more in the direction of fiction than of law. They are pure fabrications, without a tinge of truth. We have given nobody to understant that the government will condemn any portion of the ranch, nor that we have been unable to find suitable property for the Indians. We told the Indians that we have found at least a dozen suitable properties. Mr. Brown was given 325 by the Indians to go to San Diego to FORCE WILL BE REQUIRED.

AN PEDRO, July 25.—Gen. New, the promoter of the Pacific and Continental Wireless Telegraph, was in high spirits tonight. As soon as the news of the result of the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons fight was received here, Gen. New dispatched a messenger on horseback to White's Point, where the station of the company is located, with the bulletin.

Gen. New asserts positively that the bulletin of the whole eighth round of the fight, closing with the words, "Jeff wins," was sent to Avalon by the "wireless," and was duly received there, the "O.K." coming back. He reports great improvement in the working of the "wireless" since new equipment has been received.

According to the story told by the girl, Martines persuaded her to leave her happy home in Chihuahua, Mex., about a year ago, where he used ot sell ice cream and deal in other sweets to the fair senoritas of the neighborhood. He and the girl eloped and came to California. Old man Estrada suspected right away what had become of his daughter, and, packing up his few belongings, followed the two up through Mexico, across the desert to Baldwin's ranch at Santa Anita, and thence to Los Angeles, where he had Martinez arrested. Considering the value of the property. Jean Bouchere got off easily with a fine of $16 in the Police Court yesterday for fighting to get back the pitiful little body of beautiful Lucy Armond.

He has a sort of human stable of women in the tenderioin, and although two years of a life of shame have told heavily on the child, Lucy is still his most valuable asset. Another man won her away, and Bouchere had to fight him with fists to make him give her up. The girl was brought over from Belgium two years ago. She was possessed of a wonderful beauty, such as women long for and seldom attain. She was then in the sweet flush of youth. They told her grand stories of the wonderful America across the seas, and she was eager to come. She fell easily into the hands of one of the agents who make a business of enticing girls into a life of shame.

But Lucy fell in love with a youth named Philip Newman, son of a good family. It is claimed that she supported him with her earnings. But Newman was not good to her. She says that he beat her. So she went back to Jean Bouchere, who knows how to look after his "stock."

Newman got angry and got into a fist fight with Bouchere. Justice Morgan fined him $20, and Bouchere $10.

Pittochelli accuses his wife of desertion. She denies the charge, saying that, when she married him, he made her give him the major portton of about $700 which she had received from the estate of a former husband. Her son became sick recently, and the doctor ordered her to go with him to the hill country. When she returned to Pittochelli, it is said, he refused her admission to their home. Thereupon she discovered that he had begun a divorce suit against her. H. C. Longstreet was sentenced to six months in jail by Justice Morgan yesterday for stealing carpenters' tools. George Andrews was sentenced to $40, or forty days for petty larceny.

MOTHERS MUST GUIDE

Should Watch the Physical Development of Their Daughters. Earnest Words From Mrs. Pinkham to Mothers.

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the asother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When the young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

The following letters from Mrs. Southard are practical pr Mrs. Pinkham's efficient advice to young women.

Mothers Who Allow Their Daughters to Suffer are Cruel When Reilef is Easily Obtained. Read This Mother's Experience.

"DEAR MINS. PIRKHAM: — I wish advice in regard to my daughter. She is thirteen years old and never menstruated. We have had the doctor to her and he said she did not have enough blood. She has been taking iron for three months but is no better. In the morning she vomits, some days she cannot keep anything on her stomach until twelve o'clock. If she tries to do anything she gets faint. Has headache all the time, is as white as marble with great dark rings under her eyes. Please write and tell me what to do as I am discouraged with the doctor."—MRS. CHAS. SOUTHARD, Phænix Mills, N.Y. (Jan. 19, 1900.)

Any young girl or any mother is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass, for advice in regard to her sickness. No one has had greater experience or success in guiding mothers and their daughters to health. Thousands have trusted her and are glad. She charges nothing for advice. Write to-day.

THE M'KINLEY HOME

LOCATED AT AVERY, ON TRAC-TION'S SAN PEDRO LINE.

Eighty Acres of Choice Land, Ten Miles from City, With Access to Two Electric Railways-Cottage Home Will

The McKinley Industrial Home is to

The McKinley Industrial Home is to have a fine eighty-acre tract at Avery for the location of its new buildings, and will have the advantages of rapid transit to the city.

The trustees have purchased this tract, which is directly on the Traction Company's electric line to San Pedro, about ten miles from the Los Angeles city limits, and within ten minutes' walk of the electric line of the Redondo Railway Company.

A large portion of the eighty acres will be set to berries, and it is believed the land is equal to the famous Gardena lands, which it adjoins, for berry culture. The deciduous fruits, grapes, vegetables and alfaifs will also be raised, and each boy who is old enough will be required to work a certain number of hours on the farm.

The buildings for the home and school will be located on Vermont avenue, just opposite the Avery station of the Traction line. The first to be erected will be a large administration building, two or three cottages and the industrial shops, work on which will beign at once.

There is now a special need for more cottages for homes for the boys while under care of the school, and several counties in Southern California are raising funds for cottages to be used by their own boys. Santa Barbara leads with money enough already raised for a cottage.

A special fund is also to be raised for erecting a McKinley memorial arch at the main entrance to the home.

A donation of over $4000 was made for the purchase of the land, and about $15,000 has been subscribed for the buildings and improvements.

The cottages to be built now will not accommodate one-half of the homeless boys of Southern California, and fully as much more money is needed to properly carry on the work. The home is receiving applications marly every day for the admission of homeless or neglected boys, who need just such care and instruction as the Mc-Kinley Home purposes to give.

One Fireman Killed, Two Badly Injured, and Loss of Over Half a Million Dollars in Albany.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.I ALBANY (N. Y.) July 25.—One fire-man dead, one believed to be dying, and another seriously injured in ad-dition to a monetary loss variously estimated at from $500,000 to $750,000 is estimated at from $500,000 to $750,000 is the result of a fire that broke out in the heart of the business district shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. The dead fireman is D. K. Bishop, James J. Shelly, a member of the patrol, was dug out of a mass of wreckage terribly mangled and burned. He probably will die. Frank H. Wetherwax, superintendent of the Insurance Patrol, is suffering from concussion of the spine, and internal injuries. The fire started on the top floor of the public market building in Beaver street, and spread rapidly to the Columbia Hotel and the Elks' clubhouse, which adjoin it west and east respectively.

which adjoin it west and east respectively.

The front wall of the market building fell, carrying with it the upper story of the Columbia Hotel. Firemen who were spreading tarpaulins in the hotel were caught under the wreckage.

Among the heaviest losers will be the Lang Rubber Stamp Works, the Crucible Steel Company, Lester Parker Furniture Company, Lester Parker Furniture Company, Cadby Paper Fox Company, Huth & Fisher, shirt factory, United Shirt-Collar Company, Werthelm Brothers, clothing manufacturers; Columbia Hotel Company and the Albany Lodge of Elks.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 25.—The saddest, if not the most funereal event that ever held the boards in San Bernardino came off last night at the Pavillon. It was an alleged "labor union" meeting, but the Socialists ran the works. Naturally the lights went out, and the local ciergy/nen who consented to preside over the assemblage found it difficult to decipher a telegram of condolence and greeting from some car men in Topeka. "Editor" Rogers, who conducts a so-called labor paper in Los Angeles, did most of the taiking. It was anticipated that several thousand people would be attracted to the Parillon by a brass band, fireworks and a liberal amount of local advertising. If there were two hundred people in the roomy confines of the Pavillon, no me could find them, and before Rogers put half of the weary listeners had windled away. It was a gloomy time for the outfit.

Los Angeles Edison and San Berdoo Electric in Big Deal.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 25. -An important pooling arrangement has just been consummated between the Edison Electric Company of Los Angeles and the San Bernardino Electric Company, involving property worth more than half a million dollars. It is not adthe Los Angeles corporation has, entirely absorbed the outside interests, officials stating that the new deal gives the San Bernardino corporation an interest in the Edison property.

The deal has been under consideration for some time, an expert of the Edison company having been examining and making an inventory of the San Bernardino properties for ten days. These include valuable water rights, as well as the lighting and power plants. It is not improbable that several or soon will be, affected by the amalgamation of interests. It is not unlikely that this is the all the small outside electric
